USING THE OCIA SEAL

The following constitutes the minimum requirements for the use of the OCIA International seal. Please see the OCIA International Standards and/or the OCIA Bylaws for further information.

When you become certified by OCIA International, you may include OCIA's mark, including seal and name(s), to designate certified products approved on your labels, tags and/or packaging. Any operation that is certified by OCIA International may use the OCIA seal on its product labels, within the constraints of that program's requirements. The programs to which the operation is certified do not affect use of the OCIA seal. The OCIA-certified operator must only make claims regarding certification which are consistent with the scope of the certification granted.

Labeling Requirements

Seal Size: The display of the seal must be no larger in diameter than 1/8th of the height or width (whichever is greater) of the panel upon which it is displayed.

Color: There are no color restrictions for the use of the OCIA seal.

Operation Name: The person or company legally responsible for the production or processing of the product shall be identifiable.

Position: The term "OCIA-Certified Organic" (or a similar phrase) or the OCIA seal may appear on any panel of the package.
